

WET and The Wonders of Wetlands (WOW) Combined Facilitator Workshop

When: Monday-Wednesday, May 22 - 24, 2017

Where: Horace Collins Lab
3311 S. Old State Rd.
Delaware, Ohio 43015
Map (NEW Location)

Workshop

Fee: $120.00 (No refunds after 5/15/17, workshop limited to 30 participants with a limited amount of workshop scholarships available by contacting Dennis Clement)

Deadline to Register: May 15, 2017

Please register online at WMAO Registration Website

Facilitator Participants Will Receive:

- Certification as Project WET and WOW facilitators
 - Required attendance all three days to become a facilitator for $120, Includes all guides and facilitation costs
- Copies of the secondary modules (e.g., HWHP, newly released Getting Little Feet WET)
- Correlated activities to the Ohio Science Standards
- Optional one semester graduate credit through Ashland University will be available and/or a certificate will be provided for individual professional development plan credit
- Networking with other EE professionals and valuable training in the use of guide activities, materials and how to get children/adults outside experiencing their natural world
- Only Interested in Project WET curriculum?
 - Project WET educator workshop Monday only
 - Monday attendance only, $20, includes HWHP and newly released Getting Little Feet WET)

No early departures from the workshop(s)

For more information, contact:

Dennis Clement, Project WET State Coordinator
614-644-2048 or dennis.clement@epa.ohio.gov

Department of Agriculture

